

PASS IT ON...

Taking Care of Our Collections

Preservation Week at UBC Library | April 24-30 2016

Preservation Week aims to unite our communities through events and exhibits that highlight what we can do — individually and together — to preserve our personal and shared collections.

All events take place at the Irving K. Barber Learning Centre (IKBLC) at 1961 East Mall.
All events are free to drop-in and open to the public.

Webinars

From Cassette to Cloud: Reformatting Audiotape* – by Krista White
Tuesday, April 26 – 11:00 am – IKBLC Room 302 (Dodson Room)

What does it take to digitize audio recordings and what are the challenges to making them available?

Preserving Your Digital Life* – by Krista White
Thursday, April 28 – 11:00 am – IKBLC Room 261

Today, many of us record and keep these stories in digital formats, often on our smartphones. What steps can we take now to ensure the best possibility of retaining these important files for the future?

Rare Books and Special Collections Tour

Wednesday, April 27 – 11:00am – Rare Books and Special Collections

Learn about the activities required to preserve UBC library most valuable collections; explore some examples of damaged items and listen to the advice of Anne Lama and what she does to make sure they will be safe and available for the next generations.

Asian Binding Workshop

Wednesday, April 27 – 1:00pm – 4:00pm – Rare Books and Special Collections, Seminar Room

Come and learn about the techniques used in Asian binding through the creation of a facsimile of a Fukuro-Toji.

Exhibition

A Conservator's Cabinet of Curiosities

From Monday, April 25 – May 6 – Rare Books and Special Collections & 2nd floor IKBLC

Come and take a look at some of the tools used by the UBC Library Conservator to ensure the environment that our collections inhabit is adequate for their long-term preservation and explore some samples of damaged items suffering from the library's most common threats.

Illustrated historical atlas of the counties of Hastings and Prince Edward...
RBSC | digitalcollections.library.ubc.ca

Want to know a few tricks for preserving your library resources and your personal collections? Stay aware and learn more with our digital campaign. Follow the conversation on Twitter @UBCLibrary #PresWk and share your thoughts with the Library Conservator.

Take care of our COLLECTIONS
our collections | our resources | our library

UBC Library

library.ubc.ca